There are a good many Shepherds in the city, all gentlemen of such quart nature and even temper that they might get together any starry night and sing rustoral hymns without sacrilege, but there is one gentle-man whose friends are anxious to have distinguished from others of the numerous fam-ily. That is W. M. Shepard, republican can-didate for recorder. Mr. Shepard spells his name differently from most of others, and there is considerable apprehension lest this confusion of orthography lead to some mis-chief on election day. Mr. Shepard has been a resident of this city for the past twenty years. Twelve years of that time be was a commercial traveler for Stewart Bros. or the past two years he has been with the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company and rented desa room from Luiz & Shepherd, the fire insurance men. During his long residence here he has established a reputa-tion for integrity that will thoroughly justify the big republican majority he is sure to get.

Still Slaughtering Jewelry.

An immense amount of interest has been awakened among all classes of people by the extraordinary slaughter of the Mrs. Burhorn stock of jewelry, silverware, watches, clocks, etc. Im mense crowds are being attracted each afternoon and evening, and the report they carry out induces hundreds of others to call. Last night the room was tilled, and some of the greatest sac-rifices that have yet been made were forced by the bidders. One solid gold watch with a large diamond in the case, worth $150, was knocked down at $55, and another watch that was made to sell for $200 brought $65, while scores of $35 and $40 watches went for from $10 to $15. Clocks were sacrificed in the same ruthless manner, and everything else in proportion. Monday afternoon and evening some of the best goods in the stock will be put on sale and sold to the highest

Big Damage Suit Growing Out of the Shooting of W. M. Jones.

HE HELD AN ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICY

When Proof of Death was Forwarded to the Company the Money was Not Forthcoming-Other Important Litigation Developed.

C. C. Jones commenced a suit in the dis trict court yesterday to recover $5,000 from the United States Mutual Benevolent association of New York. The case has some interest, from the fact that the plaintiff is a prother of W. M. Jones, who met his death by shooting last spring on upper Broadway. The deceased had an accident policy for $5,000 with the defendant company, but when it was presented for payment was refused, on the ground that lones was responsible for his own death The petition states that Jones was shot by John Wade, May 31, 1803, and that he died June 5. Proofs of his death were at once forwarded to the company and blanks were sent back for further information. Although the second batch of information was sent to and received by the company the nolicy was not paid. A suit was also begun yesterday by Frank Wick against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. He alleges that he lost three ingers from his right hand while working for the company at Cresion on November 5, 1890. He demands a judgment of $10,000 damagee.

SOCIAL GOSSIP.

Interesting Features of the Winter in Local

The Tuesday afternoons of the Guild of St. Pauls promise to be an attractive feature in the social life of the coming winter. The first was entertained last Tuesday by Mrs. Albertson at her home in the Glen, assisted by Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Alford and Miss Badoliet. The more industrious ladies were oc-cupied with fancy work, while others sat with ale hands and gave themselves up to perfect enjoyment, and all were quite oblivious to the pouring rain outside.

Miss Cavin and Miss Gertrade Gleason, who are always kind in contributing to the success of entertainments, played a beautiful plane duet. Miss Olla Cook gave two line numbers, in which she displayed great skill, and later in the afternoon Mrs. Cummings charmed her friends by the recitation of Mrs. Brownings "Mother and Poet." which she gave in a fauitless manner. Those which she gave in a faultless manner. Those who braved the disagreeable weather were Mesdames Babccck, William Treyner, Damon, Kuline, Cummings, Moore, Cahoon, and the Misses Badollet, Reynolds, Bennett, Gleason, Gertrude Gleason, Cavin, N. Bowman, Cook, Doughty, Daquette, Neili, Schoentgen, Davenport and Sackett.

W. C. A. Entertainment.

The entertainment given by the Woman's Christian association at the Masonic temple on Friday and Saturday was very successful. Meals were served during the day and evening and were generously patronized by the friends of the hospital. An entertainment was given both evenings in which Lucia B. Griffin, the well known elecutionist leads the transpar ist, took the principal part, and was assisted by local musical talent. Ranged all around the room were booths in which handsome articles for holiday use were displayed to good advantage. About the center of the room was a small "den," in which dolls of all sizes and colors, dressed in which dolls of all sizes and colors, dressed in all the varieties of the beautifu and the ridiculous were exposed for sale. Large numbers of people visited the hall and helped the ladies out by purchasing their wares. The finances have not been straightened up yet, so that it is impossible to tell what was the exact result of the entertain-ment. It is certain, however, that a handsome sum was replized. It will be devoted to carrying on the work of the hospital.

Escapades of a Drunken Soldier. John Crawford, a Fort Omaha soldier, raised a large sized row at an early hour yesterday morning at the nome of his sister, Mrs. Dan McGinnis, 1101 Seventh avenue. He has been in the habit of drifting to this side of the river semi-occasionally when fort life became burdensome and enjoying a quiet little "time" with the boys and calling upon his sister while enjoying various stages of intoxication. Friday night about midnight he called at the house and after being admitted pulled a bottle of laudanum out of his pocket and asked her to share it with him. Mrs. McGinnis did not have the same hankering after a shuffling off of her mortal coil as her brother had, and she promptly refused to drive. Crawford then said he would kill her anyway and was about to suit the action to the word when she darted past him through the door into side of the river semi-occasionally when fort

WORKED IN CONNECTION WITH CHICAGO

One of the Interesting Features of the Plan is the Danger a "spotter" Incurs in Attempting to Expose It.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 5. - Special Telegram to The Bee. - Not a great while ago there was considerable gossip to the effect that the Chicago, St. Paul, Micneapolis & Omaha was cutting the rate through an employment agency, the subterfuse of obtulbing work being used by many to aid them la getting to Chicago at less than half the usual rate. The other lines were all stirred up and dice threats were made that unless the practice was stopped something would happen to the open rate.

The Omaha protested its innocense and good faith with perfect sincerity as was afterward demonstrated, and the gossip died away. Now, however, there is new danger of a similar kind threatening the rates and the employment agency working on its own hook, as it were, is in a position to snap its fingers at the Western Passenger association. The agency started in by entering into a contract with McArthur Bros. of Cuicago to furnish labor. It then had printed an ironclad agreement with that firm, to be signed by the party supposed to be in search of employment.

How it is Worked.

The modus operandi of the whole matter is something like this: A man enters the employment agency in search of work or a low rate to Chicago; it does not matter which, although he is treated as a person in pursuit of a joo. He is told that he will be given a position with McArthur Bros. in Chicago i he will pay $6 for his ticket. The idea of this is explained to the man. Matters having been arranged, he signs the ironclad argreement. By it he binds himself to go to Chi-cago and work for that firm, and also author-izes McArthur Bros, to take $5 from his hist week's pay to complete the $11.50 rate between here and Chicago. The agreement signed, he pays $0.50, is given a ticket to Chi-cago, and goes on his way rejoicing. In nine cases out of ten he nevergoes near McArthur Bros., but that is part of the game, and beauty of it is that if an association spotter buys a ticket and becomes a witness in sub sequent proceedings, he soon finds that the character of the agreement he signed is such that he can be jailed for fraud.

TO KEEP PREIGHT RATES UP. Chairman Midgely of the Western Associa tion on the Situation. CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 5. - Chairman Midgely of the Western Freight association has is sued a circular letter to members recommending the witndrawal of existing through rate arrangements with the Gulf lines. He says that during the last two years carnest and repeated efforts have been made to secure a conference between a duly appointed committee of the western roads and a like representation of the New Orleans Traffic association for the purpose of canvassing rates which have from time to time been issued from Gulf ports on exports and domestic traffic when destined to territory northerly and westerly from St. Louis. These efforts have not been successful and, on account of the attitude of the southern lines, the roads in the Western Freight association have been authorized to join their eastern connections in the establishment of rates on import traffic and of through rates from North Atlantic seaboard ports that have enabled the northerly route to compete, while allowing the roads west of the Mississippi river portions in excess of the divisions west of St. Louis on current shipments via New Orleans. This was done because there seemed to be no other way to justment of rates on a reasonable and re nunerative basis. Domestic Shipments. In regard to domestic shipments Mr Midgely describes the situation as steadily growing worse. On many articles the rates from New Orleans to Sioux Falls, S. D., are scarcely higner and in a few instances actu-ally less than the tariff on the same articles from Chicago to Sioux Falls. For example, the rate on sugar is 30 cents from New Orleans and 27 cents from Chicago; Orleans and 2, cents from Chicago; on crockery and carthenware, 30 cents from New Orleans and 27 cents from Chicago; on coffee, 35 cents from New Orleans and 27 cents from Chicago; on molasses, 25 cents from New Orleans and 27 cents from Chicago; on rice, 35 cents from New Orleans and 27 cents from Chicago; on sait, 29 cents from New Orleans and 15 cents from Chi-For years there has been exhibited a fetermination to make such rates from New Orleans to Kansas City as the initial line thinks necessary to secure the business.

How Omaha Figures. At least one road carried the Kansas tilts rates to Omaha and Council Bluffs; another extended them to Sioux City and Sioux Falls, and so they spread through lows and the adjacent territory. The people of north-ern lows are protesting vigorously against the inequality. Chairman Midgely thinks the roads in the Western Freight association should endeavor to relieve the situation by withdrawing their prorating arrangements with the southern lines and exacting their oll local rates on shipments from the Guit ports destined in their territory. He therefore formally cotifies the members that all tariffs from the Gulf ports on foreign and domestic traffics destined to the terri-tory west and northwest of St. Louis that have not been duly approved pursuant to the rules prescribed by the Western Freight association are declared unauthorized and all such tariffs should be withdrawn, the cancellation to become effective December 15. Exception is made of rates on tin plate enrthenware and sait to the Missouri river, since on those rates reduced proportions have been authorized via the north Atlantiscaports in competition with the New Orleans routes. In the meantime Chairman Midgely promises to make another effort to arrange a conference with the southern lines.

In Very Bad Shape. SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 5.-Receiver Potter of the Central railroad made his report to the court today. It seems that the earnings have been steadily decreasing and expenses increasing during the past four or five years. The expenditures for the next year are estinated as twice as great as for those of 1887. This practically means a considerable deficit. The effect of the report is depressing. General Superintendent Wadleigh's report of the condition of the system shows it to be in bad shape and states that to put it in a good working order within the next few years will require more than $5,000,000 for repairs and improvements in rolling stock.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAILA.

Attested by the Registration.
The registration of voters in South Omaha s completed and shows a wonderful increase. The increase is almost phenomenal, and exceeds by several hundred the predictions of all as to what the figures would reach. The registration shows that 2,957 qualified votors have placed their names upon the rolls and will vote Tuesday. The man is not to be found in South Omaha who predicted that there would be to exceed 2,600 voters register, and there are plenty who placed the number at not to exceed 2,000. Friday and Saturday 1,108 voters registered, 722 of them on the former day and 476 yesterday. The preceding three days of registration 1,756 registered. The registration is considered very large, and the fact is borne out when it is receiled that at the municipal election last April there were cast but 2,200 votes, and at that time it was con-sidered that the full vote of the city had turned out. The registration of this year and the vote of last April by wards and districts is as follows:

	First Ward-	tered 1892	April vote 1892

months of 661 voters is a record which oclipses that of almost any city in the uni-verse of near the same size as South Omsha. verse of hear the same size as South Omsha. The most neculiar part of it is that it is almost next to impossible to prognosticate upon the relative strength of the political parties. With so many new voters and no test of party strength in the city for three or four years no correct prophecy of the probable outcome can be ventured. The greatest increase in any one ward is in the First, where there is a gain of 277. This ward is republican by a fair majority, and that party will also be the gainer by the in-crease. In the Second ward there is a gain of 218. This ward is very evenly divided between the republican and democratic par-ties, the latter having a majority. The Third ward gains 158, and as this ward is almost overwhelmingly democratic that party will undoubtedly be the gainer. There is a decrease of two votes in the Fourth ward, which is democratic by a small majority. The republicans will not be the losers by the increased population, as the growth in the membership of the republican clubs proves, and the many new faces seen at the meetings s also taken as a good criterion.

She was alone at the time and her presence of mind and prompt action saved her from a frightful death. She was badly burned about the face and arms before extinguishing the fire.
